Dear Gavin,

Formal grievance

I am writing to raise a formal grievance under the Company's grievance procedure. I do so with considerable regret, having given the Company almost ten years of loyal service as Sales & Commercial Director and as a member of the board.

My grievance concerns the following matters.

1. The January reorganisation. On 15 January 2026 you announced a reorganisation of the commercial function under which two of my three regional sales managers were removed from my line management and placed under a newly created Group Commercial Operations role. I was not consulted before this decision was made or announced. The practical effect is a significant reduction in the scope and seniority of my role. I consider this a fundamental breach of my contract and of the trust and confidence that should exist between us.

2. Detriment for raising concerns. On 12 November 2025 I wrote to the Finance Director raising concerns about the timing of revenue recognition on the Calderwater framework contract, which I believed did not properly reflect the stage of delivery. I raised those concerns in good faith and in the reasonable belief that they tended to show a breach of the Company's legal obligations. Since then I have been excluded from the senior management forum and, I believe, the reorganisation that followed was influenced by my having spoken up. I regard this as a detriment for making a protected disclosure.

3. The manner of the announcement. The reorganisation was communicated to the whole sales team at an all-staff briefing on 16 January 2026 before it had been discussed with me. This undermined my authority in front of my own team and caused me real professional embarrassment.

The cumulative effect of these matters is that I no longer feel able to perform my role as before, and I believe my position has been fundamentally undermined. I have, separately and with great reluctance, tendered my resignation; this grievance is submitted without prejudice to my position that I have been constructively dismissed.

I should be grateful if this grievance could be heard promptly. I would like to be accompanied at any grievance meeting by my trade union representative. I reserve all of my rights, including the right to bring proceedings in the Employment Tribunal.

Yours sincerely,

P. Marsden
